Case study: “Developer VS State: who works for whom?” A new format!

Participants of the event discussed problems during the process of obtaining permissions for construction which cause enormous material losses for business and worsen investment and business climate in Ukraine. Lev Partskhaladze,

Deputy Minister of Regional Development, Construction and Housing and Communal Services of Ukraine:

"The exhibition is very good, modern technologies are presented here. I see the representatives of other countries and it is very important for us. We observe here not only what we already have, but also what can be built in future."

Oleksandr Slobozhan,

Executive Director of Association of Ukrainian Cities:

"Personally I have taken part in the opening ceremony for the third time and I have very positive opinion about the exhibition. This year 1,000 brands are presented at the exhibition and it's rather impressive. I have seen some city mayors who have already established business relations. There are a lot of representatives of business who have already expressed the willingness to take part in future events. The exhibition is developing. I would like to note that it has already moved beyond the format of the exhibition and is a real forum with international participation."

Yurii Nushtaiev,

Member of Ukrainian Association of Roofers and Kyianka Association:

"Sincere gratitude to the organizer of InterBuildExpo 2019. Attracting such resources and opportunities, giving us a chance to demonstrate our potential and to show ourselves are really priceless. We highly appreciate this fact."

Oleksii Bubnov,

Head of Association of Window and Facade Market Participants:

"Huge thanks to the organizer of the exhibition. This very exhibition has shown that we are reaping the rich harvest of our labour. At the Festival of Construction Service we have a lot of participants, a great number of visitors and a lot of people are satisfied."

Vadym Brovchuk,

Director of Tegola-Ukraine:

"My impression of the participation is as follows: I think that it's necessary to continue developing the direction of the Festival of Construction Service within the exhibition. Why? Because building exhibitions, as they are, are losing their popularity in Ukraine and abroad. Fewer and fewer people are focusing on common products. It is more interesting to discover the peculiarities of professional installation and application of high quality products. It is important to explain it to final consumers as well as to installation staff. From this point of view, I am convinced that the aims of the festival are achieved. To my mind, in future the exhibition's concept should be transformed from the typical understanding of the exhibition, as stands presenting common products, into the active presentation of the products' features and installation. There should be answers to questions and active communication with the staff. I wish the festival to thrive, to have success and all the best."

Nataliia Diuzhylova,

Deputy Commercial Director on marketing issues of AEROC company:

"Every year our company takes part in InterBuildExpo. We think that it is the main event of the construction industry. Traditionally we present our novelties for a new building season and InterBuildExpo opens it in Ukraine."

Karyna Zakharova,

Marketing Director of MKM-Group company:

"On behalf of MKM-Group company and KATEPAL TM we would like to express our gratitude to Kyiv International Contract Fair for organizing the exhibition in such a great way, as well as for vivid positive emotions."

Hannu Knuutinen,

Export manager of KATEPAL company:

"It is not the first time when we come to Ukraine, meet people we have already known and have been communicating with. It is a pleasure for us to come here and see all of them. Everything is great, the atmosphere is amazing but finally, we will be able to estimate the result of the exhibition, namely the growth of sales, only at the end of the year. In general we are satisfied and are happy to have taken part in the exhibition as the General partner."

Marco Poletti,

Founder and leading designer of Poletti Studio (Italy):

"Designers and architects in Kyiv and Ukraine in general are very talented and skilled in the sphere of interior design. Here people pay attention to how objects can be combined, how they are chosen and to interior, even more than in Italy. There is some kind of a non-stop force and, I would say, growth, as well as a tendency to constant self-development of people. It is very pleasant and really impressive."

Alona Bulataia,

Designer, Interior Design Bureau by Alena Bulataya (Belarus):

"I am very pleased to be invited as a lecturer to this event and deliver a speech on the stage with such outstanding maîtres of architecture and design whom I have seen here. I know some of them personally and admire them very much. That is why coming to you, sharing my experience and gaining new one is rather important. It is a landmark event for architects and designers. It is just a necessity, in every country by the way. More often we visit some large international exhibitions and do not go to each other. That is why this exhibition is a pleasant surprise for me."

Cees Donkers,

Urban designer, leading architect of Eindhoven (the Netherlands):

"For me it is really a serious functional exhibition and not a mere demonstration of design. I like being here."
